

I strongly object to Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-John Kerry documentary in the immediate days before the presidential election. It is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

When large corporations control the airwaves, we, as taxpayers and citizens get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.

Thank you.
